

JACKSONVILLE REEF RESEARCH TEAM, INC.

VISITING DIVER APPLICATION

The visiting diver program of the Jacksonville Reef Research Team, Inc. is designed to allow those divers with special qualifications to participate in Jacksonville Reef Research Team, Inc. diving activities on a short term basis without becoming a regular member of the Team. The offshore Jacksonville diving environment typically involves depths from 60' to 100' or greater, strong currents, limited visibility and rough surface conditions. Visiting divers must be fully capable of diving safely in these conditions and have scientific, technical or other special qualifications that will make a positive contribution to Jacksonville Reef Research Team, Inc. activities, scientific knowledge or public service. The applicant has the responsibility to present sufficient information in this application to enable the Diving Control Board to determine that he or she meets these conditions.
